FINANCIAL

A young child in a red and blue striped shirt is smiling and reaching out to shake hands with another child in a green and white shirt. They are playing with a large, handmade television set made of cardboard. The TV has a wooden antenna on top, a dial on the right side, and a speaker grille. The scene is set in a bright, modern living room with a white sofa and a window in the background.

IMPROVEMENTS ON ALL MEASURES

(ALL AMOUNTS FOR CONTINUING BUSINESS)

- Working capital employed improved by net 2m. The operational improvement was EUR 6m, driven by improvement of customer receivables, countered by EUR 4m reduction in cash held on behalf of clients
- Cash position improved during Q2, which is unusual as Q2 builds up to peak season.
- NIBD improved by EUR 2m due to reduced lease obligations and higher cash balance.

FINANCING – STATUS AND NEXT STEPS

- Our financing partner, Proventus Capital Partners, sent a letter claiming breach of covenants and other loan obligations. Santa Fe Group has responded to Proventus that we do not recognize any breach, and that we believe we have met our obligations.
- As a listed company, we have to publicly disclose such allegations. Unsurprisingly, this is very damaging to the company.
- Both the short term and the more comprehensive restructuring plan has been developed in close collaboration and alignment with Proventus, with Proventus participating on an appointed “restructuring committee”.
- The recommended and agreed restructuring plan requires extended funding beyond April 2020, to ensure liquidity to support the required investments in the short run.
- We do not understand the motivation behind the letter from Proventus at this point of the negotiation and planning for the long term.
- Our objective is to find a solution that enables extended funding beyond 2020, enabling the full implementation of our restructuring plan.
- Irrespective of the recent dispute, we continue to work constructively on a solution.
- Until such a solution is in place, financial uncertainty around the company prevails.

OUTLOOK

A woman with dark hair tied back, wearing a black and white striped shirt, is seen in profile from the chest up. She is standing on a balcony, looking out over a cityscape. She is holding a red mug with both hands. The background shows a dense urban environment with various buildings, including one with a prominent mansard roof and several chimneys. The sky is filled with soft, golden light from a setting or rising sun, creating a warm and serene atmosphere. The overall scene suggests a moment of quiet reflection or a peaceful start to a new day in a new home.
